

Initial Build Notes:

Priority:

- Title goes above sticky nav bar
 - Adjust z index
- Top margins of h2's are too close to the top when clicking on in-page nav
- Have adaptations in list view, less a large paragraph
- Background change from default white
- Make site responsive

Additional Considerations:

- Perhaps have image treatments or image with the same language to make images consistent
- Think of texture or opacity
 - For example, play with side nav opacity
- Wu Cheng'en being put above the characters in the nav bar makes it seem like he is another character in the novel. Perhaps put him under adaptations. Or, write "author" and make it clear he is the novelist.

Comments:

- I like the color chosen! It fits the initial proposed theme well
- Great job getting the info in
- I wonder if the bottom nav is necessary. Since the side nav is sticky, the bottom nav may be redundant